Army Regulars Patrolling Streets in city in South of Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Peking was reported today to have moved regular troops into Canton streets to curb violence by local teen-age Red Guards in that southern China metropolis.

Arrivals from Canton said the army regulars began patrolling the streets Wednesday night or early Thursday, after a group of Peking Red Guards left Canton Wednesday.

They said the Peking and Canton Red Guards had clashed several times over the Cantons' insistence upon using physical violence against persons accused of bourgeois habits and customs.

Better Disciplined
"The Peking guards" said one border crosser, "were much better disciplined and more reasonable. They tried to talk the Canton guards out of using so much physical force and violence. But they failed. There was a lot of shoving around and quite a few fist fights between the opposing groups."

"Then the Peking group moved out and the regular army soldiers began patrolling the streets."

He and other crossers said they were sure the order for army patrols had come from Peking because the patrols were obviously to control Red Guard activities and Canton military leaders would not have dared to interfere with any Red Guard activities without express instructions from Peking.

Scores of earlier reports from Canton and Shanghai indicated that Red Guards in those two cities were much more violent in their attacks against both people and property than in Peking. There were numerous reports of aged and infirm people being physically mistreated and humiliated, as well as senseless and wanton destruction of property.

Red MIG Downed in Fight With Americans

Soviet-Built Plane Hit by Sidewinder

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. pilots downed a Communist MIG in one of two dogfights over North Viet Nam Friday, but two American planes were lost in other action over the north, a U.S. military spokesman reported today.

The Soviet-built MIG was knocked out of the sky by a heat-seeking Sidewinder missile in an engagement northeast of Hanoi in which three Americans piloting F4C Phantom jets were outnumbered by four MIG17s. The pilot of the struck MIG bailed out.

An Air Force spokesman said the two downed American planes brought to 375 the number lost over North Viet Nam. A total of 120 have been shot down in the south. He said 206 helicopters also have been downed in the south and three in the north.

Marines in Battle
On the ground, a Communist force of more than battalion strength opposed two companies of U.S. Marines today just three miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The Marines were believed to be fighting a reinforced North Vietnamese army battalion, or possibly two battalions. A Marine spokesman said the two companies "don't seem to be in any particular danger."

The fighting began about noon Friday. Since then the Marines had killed 50 Communists, according to body count. They estimated 110 more of the enemy have been killed, but this figure was not confirmed.

The pilot of one plane knocked down Friday was listed as missing, but the two-man crew of the other was rescued by helicopter. Their Phantom was hit while they were striking supply targets in the panhandle area just north of the demilitarized zone, and they bailed out over the zone.

Downed Before
It was the second time the pilot, 1st Lt. Bernard D. Gier of Chicago, had been shot down and rescued and the third time for the pilot, 1st Lt. Henry J. Knock, 27, of Akron, Ohio.

The downed MIG was the 19th lost by the enemy in aerial combat over North Viet Nam, compared with five U.S. planes. A second dogfight, also northeast of Hanoi, took place before.

Gemini Team Continues Debriefing

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 11 astronauts today continued an extensive debriefing on their three-day space mission, recalling the exciting events for a tape recording.

The sessions here are called "self debriefings" in which Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr., and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr., recite the events as they remember them in broad terms, "with experts listening in."

The astronauts fly Sunday to the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., where they'll go into more detailed discussion of all phases of the flight, with specialists asking questions.

In Houston, they'll also have reunions with their families.

Riot Breaks Out Among Cubans

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A demonstration by some 300 Cuban exiles Friday night suddenly erupted into a fist-swinging riot between police and the demonstrators.

Police said 32 Cubans were arrested and jailed on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to assault and battery.

Several of the 20 policemen present received cuts and bruises.

Police said they had the situation under control within 30 minutes after reinforcements arrived.

Witnesses said fighting broke out as a band of demonstrators attempted to cross a police line in front of the British consulate.

Russia, Hungary to Contribute to U.N.

Peacekeeping 'Gifts' May be To Encourage Thant to Stay

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union and Hungary are expected to make voluntary contributions soon to ease the U.N. peacekeeping deficit, U.N. informants say.

They anticipated the contributions would be forthcoming in the next week or two, to fulfill vague, general commitments made over a year ago. The U.N. General Assembly session opens Tuesday.

Eastern European sources expressed belief the contributions would be made before next weekend by Hungarian Foreign Minister Janos Peter and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Encourage Thant
Some Eastern Europeans said the purpose was to encourage U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to stay in office.

Thant gave notice Sept. 1 that he had decided against a second term. His current term expires Nov. 3. He cited such problems as a U.N. deficit, poor prospects for future U.N. peacekeeping activities, lack of universality in U.N. membership and the threat of a major war over Viet Nam as influencing his decision.

U.S. Blamed
The Soviet bloc and France created the financial deficit by refusing to pay disputed General Assembly assessments for peacekeeping purposes. They differ with the majority over how to authorize new operations in that field.

The United States has been blamed for preventing the United Nations from becoming a universal organization by its opposition to seating of Communist China. U.S. policy in Viet Nam also has been criticized by Thant, who deplored "relying on force and military means in a deceptive pursuit of peace."

A U.N. committee has estimated the peacekeeping deficit at between $32 million and $53 million. How much the Russians and Hungarians will contribute is not known.

The 19th General Assembly in 1964-65 was stymied over the financial issue, because the United States threatened to uphold a "no vote" article in the U.N. Charter which would deny a vote to any member two years behind in its dues.

The United States dropped that threat last year after all members agreed to make voluntary contributions to remove the deficit. But most of the members, including the Soviet Union, France and the United States, have yet to do so.

Miami Police Subdued a Cuban demonstrator Friday as violence flared during a demonstration by 300 exiles protesting the arrest of four guerrillas by a British frigate in the Caribbean. He and 31 other demonstrators were arrested on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to assault and battery against police. (AP Wirephoto)

Court Orders Grenada to Guard Negroes

Judge Calls Attacks In Mississippi Town 'Savage, Senseless'

GRENADA, Miss. (AP) — A federal judge has made permanent order that Grenada officials protect Negro children from "savage and senseless" attacks by white men.

Judge Claude Clayton issued his order Friday night in Oxford, 45 miles to the north. He said the violence Monday and Tuesday was "the shame of all who occupy leadership, both officials and civic, in the county and the city of Grenada."

He referred to attacks on Negro children outside newly desegregated schools by white men swinging ax handles and chains.

The ruling came after two days of testimony on the violence. In many instances, police merely watched the attacks, witnesses said.

Contempt Threat
Grenada officials would be exposed to contempt of court action by failure to obey the injunction. The possible consequences were emphasized when Judge Clayton sentenced Grenada Constable Brady Carroll to four months in prison for contempt.

The judge ordered Carroll to begin his term at noon today.

The case against the constable had been pending since he pleaded guilty at a hearing last month involving Negro claims that law enforcement officers were ignoring the court's orders to protect legal civil rights demonstrations.

Carroll had refused to accept a federal court subpoena and

Powell Foe Says He Has Votes to Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leader of the revolt against Chairman Adam Clayton Powell of the House Education and Labor Committee declares he has enough votes to win. Powell says "that remains to be seen."

Other committee members are avoiding newsmen or, if cornered, declining to commit themselves on the hectic battle between Rep. Sam M. Gibbons and Powell.

Marcos Asks Talks

Rusk Says Peace Efforts Welcome

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the United States welcomes efforts of Asian leaders to arrange Viet Nam peace talks.

Rusk was asked at a news conference Friday about a call by visiting Philippines President Ferdinand E. Marcos for "a continuing dialogue between North and South Viet Nam and step by step movement toward negotiated peace."

The secretary replied, "We of course would welcome any contacts that would elicit from Hanoi a readiness to talk about a peaceful settlement in Southeast Asia."

Only Solution
"It is not my impression that the government of the Philippines has found thus far a response from Hanoi," Rusk added. "But this is one of the possibilities that ought to be kept open. All possibilities ought to be kept open."

Marcos, appearing before the National Press Club in Washington, said a negotiated peace is the only logical solution to the Viet Nam struggle.

"Victory is the ultimate aim," he said, "but we must remember that there would be total annihilation of the world if there is continued escalation of the war."

Rusk also described Communist China as "a major obstacle to settlement" of the war. He said he had no doubt that "a substantial majority" of U.N. members would vote against seating Communists in place of the Chinese Nationalists in the world organization.

When he was asked to evaluate political developments inside Red China, characterized by what the Chinese call a "cultural revolution" and a purge of Communist party leaders, Rusk replied:

"I suspect what is going on is of some importance, but if I were to be frank with you I

Cooperation Needed for Clean Waters

State, Federal Officials Testify In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Interstate cooperation and more federal aid were solutions offered Friday to a congressional committee investigating water pollution problems in Wisconsin and the Great Lakes area.

LI. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey, the Democratic nominee for governor, told a House Natural Resources and Power Subcommittee hearing that the state needs "the federal government's help in our endeavor to clean up Wisconsin waters."

Rep. J. Edward Roush, D-Ill., had opened the Milwaukee hearing by saying hearings in New York, Ohio and Michigan produced indications that most officials feel answers to pollution would be too expensive for local governments without federal help.

Another Study
Rep. John Race, D-Wis., told the committee there has been too little action on the pollution problem while "too often the answer has been that we are conducting another study or a survey."

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said states, industry and the federal government should organize "a coordinated, all-out emergency campaign." He said the problem is acute in southern Lake Michigan and may be beyond repair.

Nearly 30 municipal and state officials addressed the committee. Lucey told the congressmen that Wisconsin "needs your help. We cannot clean up our waters alone."

Before House Committee

Testimony Expected On Inflation Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's key economic advisers may testify next week before a House committee considering Johnson's anti-inflation proposals, congressional sources said today.

The sources said Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisors and other committee members probably will appear before the House Ways and Means Committee in closed session.

Bill Next Week
The committee concluded public hearings Friday on two of Johnson's anti-inflation proposals: suspension of the 7 per cent business investment tax credit and the stepped-up depreciation writeoffs allowed on some forms of real estate.

Committee members said they expected the panel to report out a bill next week. They predicted it would be substantially the same as Johnson proposed.

The government, meanwhile, reported record levels again for two key economic indicators — personal income and industrial production.

The Federal Reserve Board said industrial production rose nine-tenths of 1 per cent during August — reaching 158.3 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This was the eleventh straight month of advance.

Income Increase
The Commerce Department announced a $5 billion increase in personal income in August to a seasonally adjusted level of $585 billion. Officials said $1.5 billion of the increase, on an annual basis, came in transfer payments — reflecting health care benefits paid under the new medicare program.

In another development, the President told agency heads to keep purchases to a minimum and adopt a "make do" attitude. His memorandum cited his pledge to cut federal spending and added: "I meant just that."

Weekend Toll Hits 3 In Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of an Adams man and a Janesville woman in two separate accidents, boosted the state's weekend fatality count to three and Wisconsin's 1966 highway death toll to 751, compared with 696 on this date a year ago.

Merton Alderman, 43, of Adams, was killed early today when the car he was driving left Highway 13, ran into a ditch and overturned about seven miles north of Adams - Friendship in Adams County.

Mrs. Marion H. Zimmerly, 51, of Janesville, was killed Friday night in a two-car collision at the intersection of Highway 16 and Columbia County Trunk A, about one mile south of Otego.

The death Friday night of Theodore Aldworth, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Aldworth of Madison, was the state's first traffic fatality of the weekend.

The Aldworths had died when struck by a car into whose path he darted while he and an older brother romped with a recently acquired hunting dog in a woods near his home.

Daniel Swartz, 49, of Racine, his wife, Verlane, 46, and one of their 14 youngsters, Billy, 3, died Friday when their station wagon collided with a truck at a highway intersection north of Racine.

Joseph C. Kabat Jr., 28, of Menomonee Falls and a migrant worker from Laredo, Tex., Juan R. Garcia, 19, died Friday afternoon in a car-truck crash near Osman in Manitowish County.

Hen-Pecked Husband Should Stand-Up to Heckling Wife

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: After reading the letter from "Too Close For Comfort" I am compelled to give you the other side of the story. "Too Close" described how her mother berated, belittled and constantly picked on her father for 50 years.

Did it occur to you that a man who lets his wife hen-peck him for half a century is no saint. He is just plain dumb.

My husband and I were married too young — both 18. After seven years and three children he announced that he was moving out. I was shocked. Reason: He was sick and tired of listening to me finish his sentences, correct his English in front of friends and compare his income unfavorably with others in our crowd. He had become fed up with my domineering ways and said so.

After a week I asked him to come home. I hadn't realized what I was doing to him and I admitted it.

All this happened many years ago and we've gotten along extremely well ever since. Once, Ann, you wrote, "If you don't want to be treated like a doormat, say something — don't right along with the Bible. You can get ideas across like nobody else. Please print this letter for the benefit of all mothers who have small children.

Mothers: Please stay out of it when your youngsters are having their little arguments and fights with playmates. Children can be mad at each other one minute and be the best of friends the next minute — if they are left alone.

The woman who lives next door was forever getting involved in her children's battles. She was always running to neighbors to protest the way their kids were treating her kids. Naturally, the parents defended their own kids and got into a fight far more bitter than the little squabble the kids had had.

My neighbor is now on the outs with everyone in the block and I really feel sorry for her. So, Ann, please warn other mothers not to make the same stupid mistake. — No Referee

Dear No Ref: Your warning was sufficient. Thank you for writing. It's an excellent bit of advice.

Bogey Man Saves King For Player

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

How can you stop declarer from taking a successful finesse in the trump suit? The best way is to take the bogey man out of the closet and shake it under declarer's nose.

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and saw that he had a reasonable chance for club tricks. This would not be enough to defeat the contract. East needed a trump trick also, and his king of trump was clearly in a very dangerous position.

Just in time East thought of a way to save the life of his king. At the second trick East returned the ten of spades up to dummy's long suit.

This return was so "obviously" a singleton that South tried to draw trumps quickly to avoid the risk of a spade ruff. Besides, East's failure to lead a club gave South some hope that he would find the ace of clubs in favorable position.

Draws Trumps
South won the spade return with dummy's jack and drew a round of trumps with the ace. Then he led a spade to try a finesse with dummy's nine.

This worked, as expected, and South continued with dummy's ace of spades. It was now time to come out from the closet. East ruffled with the king of trumps and led the queen of clubs. Two club tricks then defeated the contract.

over large sections of the people. "Now that we have set out on the road to democratic government, we cannot slow down," he said. "We cannot detour or rest on the excuse that we are only a caretaker government."

In ground action Friday, U. S. troops reported killing 26 enemy soldiers in two battles in South Viet Nam and a South Vietnamese spokesman said Vietnamese infantrymen killed another 11 Viet Cong in an engagement in the Mekong Delta 75 miles south of Saigon.

In air activity, Guam-based U. S. B-52 bombers hammered the demilitarized zone in a pre-dawn raid Friday just a few miles north of the Marine operation. The intensification of both air and ground activities in the buffer area has brought the demilitarized zone nearer to complete involvement in the war.

Wrecked Trucks
Over North Viet Nam Friday, Navy A6 Intruders from the aircraft carrier Constellation destroyed or heavily damaged 20 to 30 trucks in a 60-truck convoy 25 miles north of Thanh Hoa. They also silenced three anti-aircraft gun positions in the area, a spokesman said.

U. S. Air Force jet-pilots also reported attacking 50 large flat-bottomed cargo boats, destroying five and damaging 10. Communist North Viet Nam's news agency, in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo, today identified another captured American pilot. The agency said he was Lt. Burton Wayne Campbell, 27, of the U. S. Air Force and that he was captured July 1. His hometown was not disclosed.

The agency also said that American flying ace Maj. James H. Kasler of Indianapolis, Ind., suffered a badly broken leg when he was shot down last month. His capture had been reported previously by the North Vietnamese.

Cannot Slow Down
Speaking to the foreign press corps at a luncheon, Ky said the elections were a severe blow to the Communists and their claims of influence and control.

On the political front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky today pledged to speed up transition of his military government into a civilian democracy as a result of last Sunday's successful elections.

Speaking to the foreign press corps at a luncheon, Ky said the elections were a severe blow to the Communists and their claims of influence and control.

Freedom Moravians To Observe Centennial

There were 14 families who gathered in the parlor of the Frederick Stammer farm home a century ago to organize the Freedom Moravian Church.

Many descendants of these same families will meet again Sunday at the present church on Center Valley Road, between Outagamie County Trunks C and EE, to spend the day celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Town of Freedom church. Although the present church was built later, in 1882, it represents the congregation's first formal church building.

The first church was a two-story frame structure built in 1867 as a combination church and pastor's residence.

Charter Families
The 34 men and women who met in the Stammer home in 1882 represented the 14 charter families of Frederick and William Stammer, Christoph Mueller, Frederick Peters, Carl Persohn, Christoph Burnmeister, Frederick Wolf, William Moder-son, Frederick Krabbe Jr., Frederick and John Wiese, Herman Kummerow, Adam Schnell and William Baum.

The church services will highlight the Centennial Day observance Sunday at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. The Rev. William R. Scheel, former pastor, will speak on the church past and its accomplishments and growth through the years at the morning service.

The Rev. Milo Loppnow, Madison, president of the Western District, Northern Province of the Moravian Church, will speak at the afternoon ceremonies. His talk will emphasize the role of church members in the future.

Open Cornerstone

The Rev. Gary Straghan is the new pastor, coming to the Freedom church Aug. 1 to replace the Rev. Erwin E. Boettcher. A history of the congregation and its organizations prepared by the Rev. Boettcher, now in Northfield, Minn., will be presented to members and guests attending the Sunday events.

Other activities will include a noon dinner for members of the congregation and their guests, the opening of the cornerstone of the 1882 church, the planting of a time capsule by the Youth Fellowship at 4:30 p.m. ceremonies and an anniversary supper at 5 p.m.

Anniversary Service Set At Bethany

Bethany Lutheran Church will celebrate its 25th anniversary of organization Sunday with three special services, the Rev. Lyle Koenig, pastor, has announced.

The Rev. Delmar Hallemeyer, first pastor of the congregation, now at Green Lake, will speak on "We Joyfully Celebrate the 25th Anniversary of Bethany" at the 8 and 10:30 a.m. services.

Dr. Seigbert Becker, instructor of religion at Milwaukee Lutheran Teachers College, will preach at the 4 p.m. service. His theme will be "The Strength of the Church."

Pastor Koenig will be liturgist at all services. The children of the senior choir also will participate. A fellowship luncheon for members of the congregation is planned after the 4 p.m. service.

The congregation was organized in 1941 with seven voting members, four of whom are still in the congregation. They are Oscar Radtke, Lee Parker, August Kersten and Raymond Spangenberg.

Original membership was 22; today there are 905 members and 610 communicants.

The present church, constructed for $175,000, was dedicated in May, 1958.

On the board of trustees are Robert Greene, James Mead, Gerald Palmbach, Elmer Knoener, Kenneth Thomack, Milton Ruppel, Kenneth Worlund, Harold Voigt and Harold Eggert.

Prof. James Engel, director of the Concordia College Choir, Milwaukee, will be the guest organist at the dedicatory recital of the new pipe organ at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Faith Lutheran Church.

Evangelistic Services Set

EUB Churches at Seymour, Cicero Plan Programs

The Rev. Lester Thiel, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Wautoma, will be the special speaker at the evangelistic services Sunday through Wednesday at Seymour and Cicero EUB churches.

The Sunday and Wednesday services are scheduled at the Seymour EUB Church; the Monday and Tuesday services at the Cicero EUB Church, five miles west of Seymour on County Trunk G.

At 3:30 p.m. Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Thiel will hold a youth meeting at Seymour, speaking on "They That Were Ready." A youth supper will follow.

"A Vision and Its Aftermath" will be his theme at the 8 p.m. service, when the youth choir will sing. The choir and the men's quartet will participate in the Monday service when the theme will be, "The Choice is Yours."

The women's groups will take part in the Tuesday service when the Rev. Mr. Thiel will speak on "Who Is a Christian?" and on Wednesday when the theme will be "Dying Lamp."

Each evening a prayer service will be held at 7:15 p.m., according to the Rev. Franklin J. Block, pastor of the Seymour EUB Church.

Bible Presentation Planned on Sunday

All third grade students of First English Lutheran Church Sunday school will receive Bibles at the 8 a.m. worship service Sunday, Robert Gauke, superintendent, has announced.

Mrs. Kenneth Berkvam, principal of the primary department, will be assisted by her teachers, including Mrs. Richard Pike, Mrs. LeRoy Ziesmer and Mrs. Robert McCarthy, in making the presentations.

Hyperkinetic Children Need Professional Help

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Recently, I wrote a column about "hyperkinetic" children—those who are utterly unable to remain quiet or devote themselves, for any continued time, to useful activity.

They jitter, talk in school, get up and walk around, tease, and in general make such a nuisance energy into constructive activity instead of wasteful bursts of pointless activity.

Yet although such medication is the only effective means to combat the problem, there is no simple way of diagnosing it from a purely medical standpoint. That is why I stress examination by highly-trained experts in emotional or behavioral problems of children.

Hyperkinetics are not "bad" children. They need help. That help, for the most part, is dependent on accurate diagnosis by a relatively small number of people.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain "ventricular preponderance, hypertension." What causes it? What can be done?—T. J.

Ventricular preponderance is a technical term describing certain findings in an electrocardiogram. It is frequently associated with high blood pressure (hypertension). It requires no treatment in itself, but the elevated blood pressure may need attention.

Note to A.K.: These "nutritional lectures" which urge that you buy a variety of "food supplements" without finding out whether you need them are a waste of money.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment for this pest, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Picasso Sculpture Planned for Chicago, But What Is It?

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago will erect a giant Picasso sculpture in the Civic Center Plaza, but no one seems sure of what it represents.

At a preview showing of five drawings of the work, Mayor Richard J. Daley interpreted the sculpture as depicting either "a great head or a great eagle and both of them are symbols of this great civic center."

The title of the five-story steel sculpture, The Marquette, gives little insight to the artist's theme.

6:30-7:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — The Jackie Gleason Show returns with the first of 10 "Honeymooners." Gleason is back as Ralph Kramden with Art Carney as Ed Norton and it's a pleasure to report they are better than ever. Sheila MacRae is Alice and while she isn't as brittle as Audrey Meadows, she fills the role well. Jane Kean is impressive as Trixie Norton.

A splashy dance number opens the show aboard a ship where prize-winning relatives of Alice's are ready to set sail for Europe. Ralph douses the fancy crepe suzettes with a fire extinguisher but he is still goaded by his in-law's good fortune. With the aid of buddy Ed, he sets about entering contests like one by Flakey-Wakey Breakfast Food. The complications and the dialogue are funny as Ralph wins with a letter saying how he has dieted from 250 to 170 pounds. (Season Premiere)

6:30-7 — Channels 4-5 — Flipper begins his third season by being a "fairy godmother" to two downed pilots (Frank Schuller and Ric Applewhite) who have fallen in the drink. It's an exciting adventure which has Bud thinking he will take over James Bond's role and Flipper exhibiting some of his more brilliant life-saving tricks. (Season Premiere)

6:30-7:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Shane's second episode is strongly reminiscent of The Lone Ranger. Last season's ill-fated cowboy series, David Carradine as Shane is gently needed by the John Quallen to put his guns on once more. It appears that he had killed Quallen's son, years ago. This prompts a torment of guilty feelings for the former gunfighter and some vivid action with a pair of drovers before the story winds to a close.

7-7:30 — Channels 4-5 — Please Don't Eat the Daisies stretches an amusing comedy situation to prime advantage. Dom DeLuise, as the chubby-faced hero of a television series called The Purple Avenger, visits the Nashes. Back in his college days, he was sweet on Patricia Crowley who spent more time holding up his head in ambulances than she did in the library. Every time he came close to her he would take a pratfall. Years later, DeLuise is still jinxed by her beauty. It's a tough but funny malady to explain to the bewildered Nash lykes. (Season Premiere)

7:30-8 — Channels 4-5 — Would you believe that Get Smart is back for its second season with all its humor intact? Would you believe that Don Adams has orders to destroy his old buddy Hymie the Robot after the latter attempts to kill the Chief whose niece has fallen for the six-foot bundle of electronic wiring? Would you believe KAOS is the cause of all the trouble? (Season Premiere.)

7:30-8 — Channels 2-7-12 — Pistols 'n' Petticoats, one of the lesser new comedy series, has Ann Sheridan in the unfunny role of a lady who'd rather shoot first and gab later. Her equally unfunny parents are played by Ruth McDevitt and Douglas Fowley, who ain't about to see the West tamed. Carole Wells is the granddaughter who the rest think is a

"born sissy." First episode has the clan warring with guest player Pat Buttram and giving some "shootin'-tootin'" advice to his sons (Murray MacLeod and Jay Ripley). (Premiere)

7:30-8:30 — Channel 11-4-9 — The Lawrence Welk Show stomps into another season with a new gimmick. Every week the Champagne Music-master will introduce new talent. First of his finds is a folk singing group from Rocky Mountain College who offer "Green Green." More seasoned are regulars Norma Zimmer, Frank Scott, Barbara Boylan, Bobby Burgess, Bob Lido, the Lennon Sisters and all the rest back in their usual places. (Season Premiere)

8-9 — Channels 2-12 — Mission: Impossible is still another slice of the serviceable espionage game. Handsomely produced and thoughtfully directed, it musters suspense with considerable flair. Hero is Steven Hill, leader of a band of undercover agents assigned the most miserable (and exciting) tasks imaginable. The first episode features Martin Landau who aids Hill in smuggling nuclear warheads out of a Latin American hotel vault. Landau is particularly effective as a master of disguises (at one point he poses as a dictator) and viewers will also be surprised by a trim performance by Wally Cox as a safecracker with broken fingers. (Premiere)

8-10 — Channels 4-5 — "Donovan's Reef" on Saturday Night at the Movies is one of those rough 'n' tumble comedies which John Wayne does so well. He and his brawling buddy Lee Marvin and doctor pal Jack Warden are adrift on a South Sea island with Dorothy Lamour, Cesar Romero and eventually Elizabeth Allen.

8:30-9:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Once again Bing Crosby in The Hollywood Palace host. Besides crooning a tune or two of his own he introduces the lovely Jane Marsh, recent winner of the Tchaikovsky Contest, who sings an aria from "La Boheme." Other guests are Sid Caesar, in a comedy sketch about suburbia; the dancing Lola Falana, the Mamas and the Papas, and George Burns who joins Bing in a duet of "You're Nobody 'Til Somebody Loves You." (Season Premiere.)

9-10 — Channels 2-7-12 — "Snap Decision" on Gunsmoke is an interesting although long-winded season premiere. Matt Dillon, for a shocker, turns his badge over to another lawman (Claude Akins), after Dillon has killed a prisoner who had saved his life. However, don't expect Matt to ride out of Dodge City. Before the tale is over a pair of nasty bounty hunters help him change his mind for keeps. (Season Premiere)

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

IS THERE A NEW LOOK IN MASCULINITY?

YES ☐ NO ☐

Yes. The book, "The American Male," discusses the new concept of what it means to be man. It minimizes sheer physical strength or blustering bossiness or expensive possessions as badges of masculinity. The new breed of man focuses on how well he manages his life, how sensitively he conducts himself as a person in relationship with other persons — business associates, family and friends. It has to do with a man's ability to say no, or yes, to life, and his awareness of the consequences of his actions for himself and his world.

Household appliances mean little to college women. False. The majority of women students want all the household equipment they can get. More than nine out of 10 want to have automatic washers in their homes; and 86 per cent want clothes dryers as well. Food preparation is anticipated with the help of home freezers by 73 per cent of the girls, and wall ovens by 63 per cent. Fifty-six per cent of the college wo-

New Booklet On Beatles' Family Trees

Boilermakers, Clerks, Fishmongers, in Ancestral List

LONDON (AP) — You might have guessed it. Two of the Beatles' ancestors were boilermakers.

It's in the family trees of Paul McCartney and Ringo Starr. Three British genealogists this week brought out a booklet called "Up the Beatles' Family Tree," published by Achievements, Ltd., Canterbury.

Go Way Back

The genealogists climbed back to the middle of the last century.

James Paul McCartney's family showed a long line of boilermakers, fishmongers, tobacco cutters and plumbers.

Ringo Starr, whose real name is Richard Starkey, is descended from a long line of boilermakers and sailors.

John Lennon's family tree showed a family of clerks, although a maternal grandfather was a musician. In George Harrison's ancestry were a lamplighter, locomotive engineer and stonemason.

The Eighth District Campaign

Opening a campaign for re-election which he admits will be restricted by "my duties in Washington which, of course come first," Eighth District Rep. John Byrnes has suggested that the November congressional election "boils down to whether we are going to send more Democratic yes-men for President Johnson to Congress or not."

With allowance for the choice of words reserved for campaign statements, this is a fair judgment of the Eighth District's November choice between Rep. Byrnes, who is seeking a 12th term, and Dr. Marvin Kagen, his Democratic opponent. Dr. Kagen already has made it clear in his campaign that he will accept the description of a man who stands for the Great Society as outlined by the President since the 1964 presidential election.

At his press conference, Rep. Byrnes said the major issues which must be decided by the electorate in the fall campaign are a policy for Viet Nam and a program to roll back inflation. He is correct, and these are the issues which should be debated in the Eighth District as well as across the nation. In fact, there may be more reason for debate in the Eighth District than elsewhere because of the fact Rep. Byrnes is able to influence federal fiscal and taxation policy as senior Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee as contrasted to what the role would be in this important area for a freshman congressman.

For his part, Rep. Byrnes sees the Democrats as "unable to devise or even agree upon a policy for bringing (the Viet Nam war) to an end with honor." The nation is in its present trouble because the administration did not explain the consequences of escalation from economic aid to training Vietnamese troops, to war.

As a member of the Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Byrnes plans to support the President's request to suspend the income tax investment credit "if there is one iota of weight" that it will curb inflation. But he will campaign on the fact that the only meaningful rolling back of inflation can come from cutting or suspending federal spending while the fiscal demands of the Viet Nam war are present.

The Democratic congressional campaign in the district has been launched with more organizational and mechanical skill than has been present in past elections. But the theme has been a tired one: Rep. Byrnes somehow does not get enough federal money for the folks back home.

We would hope that the Democratic nominee will agree that Viet Nam and inflation are the topics the voters want to hear discussed this fall. For these are the real issues of the Eighth District campaign.

Pay for Productive Work?

An Outagamie County supervisor learned during the past week that county board and committee duty can be profitable — to the tune of nearly $20 an hour.

The supervisor, whose name we shall not reveal but whose recent activities are known to at least a few of his board colleagues, is entitled to $36.50 for about two hours of time for the county.

He checked in at a committee meeting the morning of Sept. 9, signed the attendance slip, stayed a short time, then left.

He was present for the county board roll call at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 12. This entitled him to a full day's per diem — $16.50 plus mileage. Supervisors were required to vote on several issues throughout the day. Records show he was absent during every vote that was taken. The first vote came shortly after 10:30 a.m.

His committee met the day after the board meeting. Persons connected with or having an interest in the meeting at the courthouse said the supervisor signed the attendance slip shortly after 9:30 a.m., remained at the session 10 minutes, then left.

He "earned" $10 for a half day meeting. He did not return to the afternoon session. He was not present for either of two important votes — one in the morning; the other in the afternoon.

We do not know how often this supervisor or others "skip school." We were told by a good source that it happens "occasionally."

Once, without an excuse, is too often.

The Expanding Park System

Because the reporting of the expansion program tends to be episodic, in the nature of coverage of governmental affairs, it is likely that there is yet little understanding of the great advances in the development of the state park system during the last few years.

A report from the state executive department last week on the formation of a study commission on the outdoors land acquisition program noted that the State Conservation Department has created 10 new state parks, as distinguished from smaller recreational areas, hunting and fishing preserves, public waters access points and lesser facilities, under the Outdoors Recreation Act of 1961.

Our own most recent report from the last meeting of the State Conservation Commission indicates that the agency is about to approve three more major state parks, and that others are being planned. Some of us in the eastern zone of the state may be skeptical about the suitability of parklands in the distant northwestern zone on the St. Croix River, or on Lake Pepin in the Mississippi River and some others that have been advanced. Yet these are mobile times. Hundreds of Wisconsin residents now venture on weekend trips of ambitious length without a second thought. These are additional magnets for our prosperous tourist trade. We cannot afford to ignore, moreover, the fact that the residents of western Wisconsin, although they are not as numerous as our community in the Fox River Valley and along the Lake Michigan shore, also desire outdoors recreational opportunities and are contributing to the big public treasury expenditures.

Shown in this dramatic increase in the emphasis of recreation removed from hunting and fishing interests are the steady and substantial advances in state and national government expenditures under the name of what is properly called "conservation." We have a conviction that these heavier expenditures are among the most willingly supported in the swelling of our governmental budgets and the corresponding tax bills.

Perhaps even more meaningful, however, is the proof of the significantly increasing base of the "conservation" interest in Wisconsin and in the nation. We have gradually realized that the man with the creel or the gun is not necessarily the voice of the public in natural resources conservation affairs, or in the planning of outdoors recreation service. The elderly lady with the picnic basket, the boy with the butterfly net, the bird-watcher, the amateur photographer, the hiker, the searcher after solitary hiking trails, even the berry picker and the camper with his portable radio tuned to the ball game, have a legitimate and vocal interest in the great outdoors and are demanding that their public officials assure them and their posterity rightful access to it.

Verwoerd Assassination Increases South Africa Apartheid Problem

Associated Press Writer
BY MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African diplomats at the United Nations shed no crocodile tears over the assassination on Sept. 6 of South African Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd. They pressed ahead with their campaign to make African issues a dominant feature of the U.N. General Assembly opening Sept. 20.

To African diplomats, Verwoerd was the mastermind of apartheid, the policy of racial segregation that has been an issue in the United Nations ever since its birth.

South Africa, enormously rich by reason of vast deposits of gold, diamonds and other minerals, is a nation where 3 million whites exercise total rule. The 13 million non-whites are looked after by the whites but have virtually no rights of any kind. The murder of Verwoerd is not expected to shake South Africa in its apartheid policy.

African leaders are bitter NOT only over apartheid in South Africa but its extension to South West Africa, the 318,000 square mile territory it rules under a League of Nations mandate.

Moreover, they regard South Africa as the main bulwark of the white minority regime in Rhodesia, which the Africans vow must not become another perpetuation of white supremacy on the continent.

There have been rumblings from South Africa that it may quit the United Nations if the General Assembly persists in its attacks upon South Africa's policies. Verwoerd did not permit this to happen, but with his successor it may be a different situation.

African resentment reached new heights when the International Court of Justice ruled on July 18 that Ethiopia and Liberia had no legal right to claim that South Africa violated its mandate by introducing apartheid in South West Africa.

African leaders denounced the court decision as a betrayal of the territory's population of a half million blacks and an abdication of the court's responsibilities.

At the United Nations the 34-nation African bloc demanded that the Assembly give priority to the South West Africa issue. They sought immediate fullscale debate on their demands that the Assembly take steps to end the mandate and put the territory on the road to independence.

South Africa has turned a deaf ear to continued U.S. Africa, once under German rule, be made a U.S. trust territory. There is no indication that they will pay any attention to new assembly demands. The big question is whether the U.N. Security Council would authorize use of force to end the mandate. Most U.N. diplomats agree this is unlikely.

Use of force is being demanded by the Africans also to bring down the white minority regime of Prime Minister Ian Smith in Rhodesia.

The U.N. Special Committee on Colonialism has urged the implementation of mandatory sanctions by all U.N. members against Rhodesia, and has asked that the council ask Britain to impose a total blockade of its rebellious colony. Rhodesia, which quit the British Commonwealth last November, has thus far easily survived a British blockade, largely with the friendly help of South Africa.

Apartheid has been an issue in the United Nations ever since its organization's birth in 1946. The reply from South Africa has been the same — that its racial policies are an internal matter of no business to the outside world.

But with the emergence of the newly independent nations of Africa, and campaign against apartheid has been waged with ever greater ferocity in the United Nations. This fall the emphasis will be on pressure against South Africa's big trading partners, among them the United States, to cut down trade and thus deal that country an economic blow. South Africa's economy has been booming, and the response from the trading countries to such pressure will not be very great.

The Africans are also keeping an eye on Basutoland and Bechuanaland, which are about to gain their independence from Britain, and Swaziland. The General Assembly is already on record with a resolution warning South Africa that any attempt to annex these territories would be regarded as an act of aggression in violation of the U.N. charter.

Basutoland and Swaziland are enclaves within South Africa and almost totally dependent upon her. Bechuanaland borders South Africa, South Africa and Rhodesia, all of them white-ruled.

Wisconsin Report

Conservation Leaders Protest Too Much Over Reorganization Plans

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The pained and indignant protest of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission against the idea of embracing its program within a new and enlarged State Department of Natural Resources provides a clinical example of the barriers that will be encountered if the advisory commission on state government reorganization pursues its task seriously.

Such an angry denunciations.

Wyngaard

will echo from the headquarters offices of many of the other traditional state service agencies as the reorganization deliberations continue and a blueprint for reshuffling an absurdly long list of little administrative empires emerges.

These men of the Conservation Commission emphasized their objective concern about the conservation programs now under their jurisdiction, their success in the past, the need for continuity of their policy and control, and the risk involved in their dismemberment. For themselves, they assured the Wisconsin public, they are not indispensable. A proprietary posture showed through their anxious speeches and statements, nevertheless, as when they asserted their belief that "fulltime" and "paid" officers, as evidently envisioned by the Kellett reorganization committee, somehow are less desirable or inferior to their own unpaid selves. Or when they noted that such men would be answerable, and presumably controlled, by the governor who chose them.

It is reasonable to suppose that any citizen who is interested is also perfectly aware that these commissioners, however their qualities are measured, hold their office not through constitutional law or superhuman ordinance, but because they also knew a governor.

LESS NOISE

As it happens, this reporter has observed Conservation Commission affairs over as long a period and as attentively and critically as anybody in the news gallery and is sympathetic to the viewpoints attempted to be communicated by the Commission. Yet these men protect too much and from a perspective that is less effective than they could have employed.

There is an evident fear that there is a conspiracy afoot to destroy the Wisconsin conservation program, to repudiate their own services and their own records. There was an implied protest that such a reorganization scheme was being hatched in private. Yet they acknowledged that they were given the embryonic plan by the authors and solicited for their views. It might have been more graceful, everything considered, to send a reply with less denunciation and more explanation.

The Commission, it is useful to note, does not deny the essential thesis of the highly tentative reorganization proposal — that all relevant natural resources programs should be administered under a single roof. Nor does it deny that the legislature, rather than the Kellett Commission, asserted its intention to work for such an end when it adopted the new water pollution laws this year.

METHOD

The quarrel here is not with the goal, but with the method. The commission would be content, it has said in effect, if such a fusion of services can be achieved and itself continued as the top policy-making and supervising body. Such a plan may very well be enacted, after the sound and the fury has diminished, in the view of those who are familiar with the history of Wisconsin natural resources program, public attitudes, and the record of the commission as an institution.

The nearly frantic rhetoric of the commission declarations, those of its individual members and as a body, meanwhile tells something of the politically innocent atmosphere in which these reorganization deliberations are being conducted. The alarm cries from the Conservation Commission may conceivably rally some votes of the suspicious and the honest to goodness conservationist against the Republican administration which is sponsoring such studies, for example. If these reorganization committee members were ordinarily cautious or politically motivated in the slightest degree, they would have deferred all proposals until after the November votes are counted.

Let's Have List of Text Books Needed in Spring

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The solution to the problem of the high cost of textbooks for senior high school pupils is really a very simple matter. I believe the textbooks are chosen before the summer recess, and all the courses now have numbers since the school has now gone to computers to program the pupils. All that needs to be done is to include a list of the books needed along with the spring regulation materials. This certainly shouldn't be too expensive. Then the pupil can check his chosen courses against the textbook list, and he will probably be able to acquire used books from pupils a year ahead of him.

I attended Appleton High School twenty-five years ago and we were always told what books were required at spring orientation. Besides that there was a used book sale the afternoon of the first day of school in the fall. Pupils tagged their books with their name and homeroom number for the sale, and then their money or unsold books was given to them in homeroom after the sale. I believe one of the clubs was in charge of the sale. In my three years of senior high I bought just two brand new books because of a change in texts. Also bought two English workbooks and four inexpensive books we kept after the year was over. By knowing what we needed in the spring, not only did we save money, but we were all ready to begin work at the second day of school. Now my daughter says some of the kids don't have their books by the end of the first week. It makes no sense to have a longer school year and then waste time due to a lack of materials.

I am not in favor of a rental system. First of all, there is too great a variation in the books needed by students enrolled in different courses. The only fair way to handle it would be for teachers to collect fees in each class. Teachers have enough to do without adding fee-collecting. Furthermore, a rental system can fail to be self-supporting and I prefer to pay for my kid's textbooks now when they are being used instead of having to subsidize a rental program in my tax bill later in my retirement years.

I suggest that the many parents who have this problem of not knowing what books are to be used in time to acquire used ones when possible, and of trying to get a fair amount for used books, should make their wishes known to the school administration. If they are public servants, their first duty is to the people who pay their salaries, not to the book dealer.

How about it, you school people? Is it really too much expense and bother to include a textbook list with spring registration materials? Will it get things under way quicker in the fall to have pupils come fully equipped at least on the second day of school. Even if the old-time used book sale is impossible, surely a few stencils and a few reams of paper to give us that much needed list can't be that terribly expensive. As for the labor involved, maybe some of the secretarial students could run off these badly needed lists.

State Building Corporation Uses Competitive Bids, Sen. Leonard

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The editorial which appeared in your August 27th issue regarding the method of operation of the "Dummy Building Corporations" may leave some readers with an erroneous impression of the practices followed by the corporations.

For easy reference below is quoted a portion of the editorial:

"The point is that even if these corporations are not literally required to follow the public bidding rules applying to all public expenditures, state and local, through one of the most basic of the policy traditions of Wisconsin, they ought to have the good taste and judgment to do so voluntarily."

As you may know, I am now serving on the State Building Commission and have been a member of the Building Commission for the past four years. In addition to this responsibility, I am also the president of the Wisconsin State Agencies Building Corporation, the largest of the private corporations providing academic, research, welfare and dormitory facilities for agencies of the State of Wisconsin. In this capacity I am in a position to not only observe first hand but also to give guidance to the operations of both the pure state building program and that program being carried by the private corporations.

You may be aware that the corporation staff has made considerable progress and substantial improvements in the method of financing the corporation's activities. Such progress is founded on the basic principle of competitive bidding, in this case applied to the financial market. I refer to this situation only to illustrate our awareness and appreciation of this basic principle.

It would seem obviously inconsistent for us to follow this principle in one area where the results have been most gratifying but not to extend this principle into that area which is more readily understood and appreciated, namely the construction market. Although technically the corporation is not required to take competitive bids, the logic of so doing is overpowering, and therefore it has always been the policy of the corporation to receive competitive bids. To my knowledge, the current difference of opinion on the University of Wisconsin gymnasium floor represents the first such problem encountered. Over the years, I have learned that the science of competitively bidding the literally hundreds of thousands of elements within a building can prove to be quite complex. To some extent the record must speak for itself in that hundreds of millions of dollars of construction has been put in place using existing policies and procedures without serious complaint. It is, of course, difficult if not impossible to complete the removal of the element of the subjective judgment in all situations. I have been satisfied that the Bureau of Engineering has done a creditable job in all respects in executing the building program.

I do not disagree with the text of the paragraph quoted except that it is subject to possible misinterpretation. I would assure you that it has been, is now and will be the policy of the building corporation to solicit bids on a competitive basis and award contracts which will be in the best interest of the state.

Sponge Grip for a Pen Also Works on Brushes

BY CAPPY DICK

The ease of handling ultra-slim ball point pens and very thin watercolor paint brushes can be increased through the use of a finger-grip made from a piece of synthetic sponge.

Easier Handling

The pen or brush is to be fitted into a hole cut into the sponge, providing the grip shown in Figure 3.

To make such a grip, cut a corner from a synthetic sponge. This is shown by the dotted lines in Figure 1.

Bore a hole through the sponge (Figure 2).

Slide the pen or brush into the sponge. The device is then ready for use.

Incidentally, the sponge will absorb any moisture that gets on your fingers as you work. The sponge will be easy to remove and clean by washing it if it becomes soiled with paint or ink.

Byrnes Rejects Attempt to Hike Federal Control

GOP Congressman Speaks in Appleton Friday Afternoon

"Contrary to Democratic campaign talk, government does not support us; we support the government," Rep. John W. Byrnes said in a campaign speech Friday afternoon in Appleton.

"Imagine the nerve of Democrat candidates for Congress telling us they will take care of us if we elect them to office," Byrnes said.

"This is nothing more than an attempt to buy our votes with our own money. The federal government has no resources except what it takes out of the hides of every citizen, even the poorest, with a wide variety of hidden and open taxes," the congressman told a meeting of Byrnes' workers at Alex's Manor House, near downtown.

"In any event, I doubt the people of this district want to be taken care of by some bureaucrat. They want to take care of themselves. They will reject anyone who proposes taking away their freedom of action by turning every human problem over to the federal government," Byrnes said.

"These are the real pessimists — these candidates so anxious to join the chorus of Johnson yes-men in Congress. They see a crisis in every corner, a problem under every bed and they can think of no other solution except to let the Great White Father in Washington try to solve it with our tax money. They scare us in order to persuade us to turn over our lives and fortunes to LBJ and his bureaucratic army.

"We've got a great district built by the efforts of a great people who have worked for what they've achieved. The results of those efforts are evident in the dynamic progress we see on all sides. The people of this district know that success and progress come, not by having someone take care of us, but through our own willingness to work, to save, to plan and to sacrifice in order to take care of ourselves. This is the only way we'll ever build the better America we all seek.

"No government can take the place of individual effort. The day these Johnson yes-men sell the idea we can all sit back and relax and let the government do it all for us is the day this country heads for the rocks of oblivion."

Byrnes, who opened his campaign for re-election Thursday, is speaking in all seven counties of his district before returning to Washington Monday night.

Foster Home Runaways Admit Thefts

Prepare Statements Telling of Entering Appleton Buildings

Two of three 16-year-old boys who ran away from a DePere foster home last week, have admitted several burglaries and thefts to Outagamie County authorities.

The two youths were apprehended by Appleton police following a foot chase on the city's near-northside early Tuesday morning. They were located under a house porch.

Outagamie County investigators learned the youths fled Brown County after they slashed tires on more than 30 vehicles. The boys wrote statements admitting burglaries at several homes, an auto agency, and other places.

They told investigators they entered the Robert Seidler home, 400 N. Bluemound Road, where they helped themselves to food. They entered a basement in the Paul Schubert home, 913 Grider St., but were unsuccessful in attempts to get upstairs.

The boys stole soft drinks, beer, band aids and cigars at W and H Motors, 1121 N. Bluemound Road. They also admitted breaking into a camper bus and stealing blankets. Two stolen sleeping bags were recovered along W Wisconsin Avenue. The boys told authorities they started a small fire in a barn.

The pair has been turned over to Brown County authorities.

Senator Seeks $2.5 Million Annually for Bridges in State

Reuben R. LaFave Says Taxes On Lubricants Could be Used

State Sen. Reuben R. LaFave said Friday proposed legislation which would make approximately $2.5 million a year available for use on bridge construction in Wisconsin.

The Oconto senator's plan would appropriate the state sales tax on lubricating oil and grease and vehicle services for use on bridges. The taxes presently are a part of the general fund and should be returned for use by motorists who pay them, La Fave said at a special Northeastern Long Bridge Conference at Appleton.

Lubricating oils and grease taxes collected in the state total nearly $500,000 a year, La Fave said. Taxes on new and used cars, trucks, trailers and semi-trailers, and highway construction equipment also are poured into the general fund and should be diverted to other sources, he said.

The $5 million per biennium may not be enough to overcome the need for bridges in the state, La Fave said, but it would provide a basis for additional action.

It was decided during the conference Friday to form a bridge action committee for the 1-county Highway District No. 3 which would make further recommendations for statutory changes, study bridge problems and push legislative action before the next session of the State Legislature.

More than 50 regional planners and local and state government officials attended Friday's conference. Co-chairman Gordon Bubolz presented plans for the action committee. As agreed upon by persons attending the conference, the committee will consist of one person appointed by each of the 12 counties' highway committees, one representative of each of the highway district's three regional planning commissions and a representative from each city within District No. 3.

During the day-long meeting at the Terrace Motor Inn, south of Appleton, officials from cities and counties in the Fox Valley area outlined bridge problems existing in their communities.

Favor Federal Funds Most persons present favored the use of federal funds to supplement state and local money for bridge construction. Under the existing Long Bridge Act, enacted in 1911, some state money is available to communities desiring bridge construction.

Woman Placed On Probation For Forgery

Mrs. Leigh Ann Britten, 24, route 3, Kaukauna, who earlier this month pleaded guilty to three counts of forgery, Friday afternoon was placed on probation to the State Department of Public Welfare for two years.

The woman pleaded guilty Sept. 2 and Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller continued the case to Friday to allow time for a pre-sentence investigation. She was charged by Outagamie County authorities with cashing a forged $50 check June 25 at the Kroger Store, 2700 W. College Ave.; a forged $44.76 check June 25 at Prange's Budget Center in the Town of Grand Chute; and a forged $38.28 check Aug. 5 at the Food Queen Store in Appleton. Authorities said the three checks belonged to an Appleton woman and were drawn on an Appleton bank.

2 Young Burglars Get 3-Year Terms

Judge Keller Imposes Sentences In Attempt to Curb 'Epidemic'

Commenting, "We're having an epidemic of burglaries in this community and it just can't go on," Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller Friday afternoon sentenced two young Appleton men to three years in the state reformatory for their parts in burglarizing a service station last month.

Richard A. Siebers, 21, and Richard A. Tetzlaff, 18, both of 121 W. College Ave., were two of four persons charged with burglarizing the Zephyr Service Station, 1349 W. Spencer St., early the morning of Aug. 16. Siebers and Tetzlaff pleaded guilty Aug. 26, after they waived preliminary hearings and were bound over to the felony branch of Outagamie County Court. Judge Keller had ordered the pair to jail without bond while he awaited results of a pre-sentence investigation.

Consolidate Counts Siebers also pleaded guilty Friday afternoon to burglary charges brought by Waupaca and Calumet counties. The youth consented to consolidation of the counts with Outagamie County charges. He admitted his part in burglarizing the Darboy Club May 17 and the Thomas Spengler garage May 24 near Readfield in Waupaca County.

Con'solidation proceedings were carried out by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer and Waupaca and Calumet authorities. Siebers was sentenced to three years on each of the three burglary counts, with sentences to be served at the same time. The same Appleton attorney represented both youths in court Friday. He asked leniency for them, stating that neither boy was inside the station when the burglary was taking place.

Judge Keller said, however, that considering the youths' past records he could not permit probation. He called attention to the fact that Tetzlaff has been "in difficulty" 13 times and appeared in County Court in July for disorderly conduct. He pointed out that Siebers was involved in two counts of theft in October 1962, and that "the boy has been before this court on several occasions. He has not respected the consideration given him." Judge Keller said in imposing the reformatory term.

The Branch 1 judge showed obvious concern over the recent rash of burglaries in Appleton and Outagamie County. He told Siebers, "Burglary is one of our more serious crimes." The court was told that Siebers drove the car used in the Waupaca and Calumet burglaries. Money, auto parts and other items were taken.

About $25 cash, umbrellas and bank bags were missing following the Zephyr Service Station burglary.

An 18-year-old rural Appleton youth late in August was placed on probation after he admitted his part in the service station burglary and Robert V. Krull, 23, 209 W. Pacific St., is awaiting a preliminary hearing in connection with the burglary. The hearing is set for Sept. 30. He is being held under $5,000 bond.

Lodi Man, 63, Dies In Construction Mishap

MADISON (AP) — Frank L. Lodi, 63, of rural Lodi died Friday when struck by a scoop shovel mounted on a tractor operating in an excavation in the Town of Dane.

The Rev. Orville Janssen, organizing pastor of Appleton's newest Catholic parish, St. Bernard's, was honored by the Brown County Sheriff-Traffic Department Benevolent Association for "the humanitarian services rendered to his fellow man and outstanding dedication to the community." Father Janssen, formerly editor of the Green Bay diocese "Register" served as chaplain at the Brown County jail and conducted services there every Sunday. From left are Ralph Willard, president of the association; Father Janssen and Sheriff Norbert Froelich.

The court withheld sentencing Friday and placed Ralph T. Helser, 29, 807 Koehnke Road, who on Aug. 8 pleaded guilty to a worthless check charge, on probation to the State Department of Public Welfare for one year.

Helser was arrested by Outagamie County authorities who said the man cashed a worthless $10 check July 15 at the Humble Service Station in Little Chute.

The check was drawn on a Marinette bank. Helser had been free on $100 bond since the time of his court appearance last month. He was ordered to make restitution on the worthless check.

Registration Opens For Bridge Classes

KAUKAUNA — Registrations are being accepted at the recreation department office for beginning bridge lessons. Classes will start as soon as enough registrations are received.

Clarence Theis will serve as instructor and sessions will be held in the basement of the municipal building. These classes will be strictly for beginners with little or no knowledge of bridge. An intermediate class will be formed in January, according to Clarence Theis, recreation director.

He said he could foresee a substantial expense in having to make some types of cases the 27 miles to Calumet County Court, especially if several investigations would have to be made of the trip.

City Atty. David Geenen said he has been aware that Outagamie County courts have no jurisdiction over offenses that occur in the Calumet section of the trip.

FAA Standards Now Take In Commuter Airlines; Could Aid Outagamie

Outagamie County and Air Wisconsin officials said this morning the county's air transportation facilities stand to "benefit greatly" by an amendment in Federal Aeronautics Administration (FAA) standards regulating the disbursement of funds for navigational aids.

Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Green Bay) said, after being informed of the amended FAA standards Friday, he will ask the federal agency to take immediate action in assisting Outagamie County's installation of navigational aids at the new airport in the Town of Greenville.

The change in policy, according to D. D. Thomas, deputy FAA administrator, means the annual count of passengers originated by scheduled commuter and air taxi operators will be accorded the same consideration as those passengers originated by certified route scheduled operators as qualifying elements for navigational aids and facilities.

"The agency (FAA) therefore is taking immediate action to amend the airway planning standards as are necessary to accommodate this policy change," Thomas said.

Certified Lines In the past, only airports having certified air lines could use passenger movement statistics as a qualification for federal aids in navigational facilities.

The new Outagamie County airport now has an ADF "H" marker type navigational aid system, installed at county expense. The system utilizes a low frequency homing device and reportedly is considerably less sophisticated than the navigational aids now being used at airports having heavy volumes of traffic.

Karl Baldwin, president of Air Wisconsin, an Appleton-based commuter airline, said Outagamie County can qualify for federal funds since passengers using Air Wisconsin (or other commuter lines) will be used as criteria for navigational aids at airports serviced by such lines.

Baldwin said the new airport is in need of "more sophisticated landing equipment." Not Available Yet The Air Wisconsin president cautioned that the latest FAA decision means only that ports such as Outagamie County's could qualify for federal funds, and does not mean the money is now available for projects at specific airports.

Once an airport qualifies for funds for navigational aids, Baldwin said, the entire cost of equipment and installation and the maintenance is borne by the federal government. John Conway, Air Wisconsin vice president, said the FAA amendment to its qualifying standards could "open the door" to vast navigational improvements at the Outagamie port — either on an immediate or gradual basis.

Conway said there may be a

Court Revokes Probation, Jails Kaukauna Youth

William Jirikowic, 19, 100 W. 10th St., Kaukauna, who recently was returned from a court ordered stay in Central State Hospital, was sentenced Friday afternoon to four months in the Outagamie County jail.

The sentence was imposed by County Judge Gustave J. Keller who said the youth would be given "consideration" for time spent at the state institution.

Jirikowic was sent to the state hospital July 26 following revocation of probation by Judge Keller. The youth had been placed on probation after he was found guilty of issuing worthless $10 and $25 checks in Appleton May 13 and May 14. The probation was revoked in July following a "judicial review" in county court.

Transient Imprisoned For Burglary

Stanley M. Lynch, 49, a transient laborer from Massachusetts, was sentenced Friday afternoon to three years in the Wisconsin State Prison at Wausau after he pleaded guilty of burglarizing two Appleton homes Sept. 8.

Lynch, who said he worked for a circus that came to Appleton, was sentenced by Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller. The two burglary counts followed investigation by Appleton police. Lynch was arraigned Monday at which time he received court-appointed legal counsel.

He was arrested on a downtown Appleton street about 12:30 p.m. Sept. 9 after he was recognized by a man whose home he admitted entering the night before.

He was charged with burglarizing the homes of Melvin DeBruin, 1424 N. Division St., and Kurth Schoenrock, 510 N. Clark St.

Some Appleton Cases to be Tried in Chilton

Calumet Isn't Outagamie, Judge Says

Persons arrested in the Calumet County portion of Appleton will have to be tried before a judge in that county in the future.

That was the essence of a decision handed down Friday afternoon by Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller in reversing a verdict given in his court last week.

Edwin H. Ruechel, 63, 2512 S. Madison St., pleaded guilty Sept. 6 of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants. He was arrested by Appleton police after his car struck a parked vehicle in the 2000 block of S. Madison Street — in the Calumet County portion of Appleton's southeast side.

Judge Keller fined the man $175 and costs and ordered his driver's license revoked for one year.

Friday, Ruechel appeared with Appleton attorney Jerome Block, who petitioned for dismissal of the charge, contending that since the arrest was made in Calumet County, the Outagamie County court had no jurisdiction. Had the offense been committed in Outagamie County and the arrest made over the line, the Outagamie court would have had jurisdiction, Block said.

Judge Keller accepted the petition and dismissed the charge, over the objections of Assistant City Atty. Dennis Herring, who contended that statutes gave the old municipal courts original jurisdiction over charter provisions of the City of Appleton and added that with court reorganization legislation in 1961, Municipal Court simply was "renamed" County Court, Branch 2.

Therefore, Herring maintained, the original powers over ordinance violations within the city still lie with Outagamie County Court. Judge Keller, explaining that the question has come up several times, but never before his bench, said, "It is my feeling this court has no jurisdiction over Calumet County."

He then vacated his earlier judgement against Ruechel and told Herring the city could start action against the man in Appleton.

"I dismissed a complaint, as a matter of course, last week that involved the harboring of a vicious dog," he said. The alleged violation occurred on S. Jefferson Street, in Calumet County.

Geenen said he is sure both civil and criminal actions involving offenses taking place in the Calumet portion of the city must be tried in Chilton.

He said whereas it might be possible to establish a municipal court, which would assume jurisdiction of ordinance violations within the city limits, he does not anticipate such a move in the near future. Geenen said arrests made in the Appleton sector of Calumet County probably would not be of a volume great enough to warrant establishment of a municipal court yet.

He said he could foresee a substantial expense in having to make some types of cases the 27 miles to Calumet County Court, especially if several investigations would have to be made of the trip.

City Atty. David Geenen said he has been aware that Outagamie County courts have no jurisdiction over offenses that occur in the Calumet section of the trip.

The $2.1 million expansion project begun at the end of 1964 is expected to be finished in about two months, according to Vernon Zingsheim, plant superintendent. Secondary treatment facilities are being added and some primary equipment is being replaced to increase efficiency to remove from 93 to 98 per cent of suspended solids and more than 90 per cent of wastes which cause pollution by absorbing oxygen. The vacuum filter and screw press system is expected to cost considerably less to operate and is also being built at a savings of about $70,000 below the bids on the previous system.

Neenah Foundry Starts Multi-Million Dollar Plant

Plant No. 3 To be Ready Next April

NEENAH — Construction has begun on the new multi-million dollar expansion program of the Neenah Foundry.

Ground was broken on Wednesday for the 135,000 square foot Plant 3, located on Byrd Avenue just north of Plant 2. The project is expected to be completed about April 1, 1967, according to E. W. Aylward, president of the firm.

The new plant is designed to manufacture gray and ductile industrial castings in the 200 to 2,000 pound range on a high-production basis.

The initial work force for the new plant will be about 100 — with twice that number needed for maximum output. Neenah Foundry is presently rated among the top 10 foundries in the country with 1,100 employees and an annual payroll in excess of $6 million.

Aylward said plant 3 is designed to meet the demand of customers in the heavy equipment and machinery business who have turned to bigger units and need larger component castings.

New Facilities

Major facilities at the new plant include one 60-inch water induction furnace, six molding machines complete with sand cooled cupola, a 14-ton electric slingers to make 8,000 to 12,000 pound molds, completely automated sand system and continuous car type conveyor to move the molds through the manufacturing operations.

Most of the cores will be made by the Quick-set process which replaced the conventional oil sand cores. The cleaning room will include a new robot sandblast unit which is programmed to perform several operations automatically. This will be the first such machine delivered to the industry and is considered a breakthrough in cleaning methods.

The company recently installed the first 22-ton Hevi-Duty electric induction furnace in the country. The furnace holds 22 tons of molten iron at temperatures ranging upwards from 2,700 degrees, enabling Neenah Foundry to maintain a high

Action Tuesday

Town Sends Letter to Menasha Officials on School Position

MENASHA — The town board has restated its position on the upcoming $1,026,000 bond issue for the planned elementary school on Airport Road in a letter sent to city and school officials Friday.

Town Chairman Roland Kambo was given authorization to vote for the bond issue next Tuesday but the town board warned that court action could result if some of the money was used for improvements which weren't on or abutting school property.

The letter stated the town board felt "no expenditures should be made from the bond issue for any other sewer or water construction, street improvement or sanitary sewer lift station." It further stated such expenditures should be made by the city of Menasha "as part of its obligation to serve property within the city limits."

Legal Action Kambo continued in the communication that if any expenditures are authorized by the school board, the Town of Menasha "will be forced to test the matter in the legal courts of the state in order to protect the interests of the taxpayers of the Menasha Joint School District."

White Sox' Horlen Hurls 3-Hit, 4-0 Win Over Orioles

Athletic-Senator Game Postponed By Power Failure; Detroit Cops

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

There seemed to be no way to turn off the Kansas City Athletics...so Washington turned off the lights.

Actually, the Senators were innocent bystanders Friday night when a power failure blacked out their game against the Athletics, who have been ablaze in their losing weeks of the American League season.

The A's went into the game with a seven-game winning streak and designs on a first-place finish for the first time in 14 years. Their young pitchers were working on a string of 27 scoreless innings and had allowed only six runs in the last 60 innings.

Kansas City's Lew Krausse and rookie Barry Moore of the Senators were locked in a scoreless duel in the third inning when four of the eight light towers in D.C. Stadium went out, the result of a fire in the transformer. Repairmen checked the damaged system and, determined it would take 48 hours to get the lights working again.

To Be Resumed Sunday

The game was suspended, to be resumed before the clubs' scheduled game Sunday.

The A's and Senators already were in the dark when the lights mmed for New York's Jim Bouton, who pitched 7½ innings of perfect ball but was beaten by Minnesota 2-1.

Meanwhile, pitchers Joel Horlen of Chicago and Hank Aguirre of Detroit stepped out of the shadows as the White Sox blanked first-place Baltimore 4-0 and the second-place Tigers whipped Cleveland 3-1.

Horlen, making his first start in three weeks, stopped the Orioles on three hits and Aguirre scattered eight in gaining his first victory since June 10.

Elsewhere, Boston edged California 5-4 on Carl Yastrzemski's two-run double in the ninth.

Retires First 22

Bouton retired the first 22 men he faced while nursing a 1-0 lead over the Twins, but gave up a one-out single by Don Mincher in the eighth and was a victim of his own wildness and an error in Minnesota's two-run ninth.

Zoilo Versalles led off with a double and Bouton hit pinch hitter Sandy Valdespino with a pitch. Rookie third baseman Mike Ferraro then threw wildly past second on Cesar Tovar's sacrifice bunt, enabling Versalles to score the tying run. Valdespino raced to third on the error and scored as Jimmie Hall bounced into a double play.

Jim Merritt held the Yankees to five hits, including Tom Tresh's run-scoring single in the first inning.

Horlen, who had been banished to the bullpen after a series of ineffective starts, permitted only one Baltimore runner past first base and faced only 30 hitters—three over the minimum—in gaining his ninth victory against 12 losses.

Smacks Three Singles

Ken Berry smacked three singles in Chicago's 13-hit attack that sent the Orioles to their fifth loss in seven games.

Aguirre breezed to his third victory in 11 decisions and hurled the Tigers within 8½ games of the lead—the closest they've been since July 17. Norm Cash tripled in the fifth inning and scored the go-ahead run on Al Kaline's sacrifice fly. Don Wert drilled an insurance homer in the sixth.

Yastrzemski lifted the Red Sox within range with a bases-empty homer in the eighth inning, then delivered the tying and winning runs with his two-out double off Lew Burdette in the ninth.

Horlen pitched a 5-1 play, 85-yard march after the second-half kickoff. Simon's 24-yard gallop and a 17-yard pass, Garvey to Vivoda, put the ball in position on the East 22. Garvey then fired to Simon on the 15, and he took it in with a burst of speed.

East's first scoring chance came later in the third period when Pat Jenks recovered a fumbled punt. But, three plays produced a net loss of six yards, and East punted. In the fourth quarter, East reached the AHS 27, but Kain broke up a fourth-down pass.

Later in the fourth period, Garvey lateraled wildly after gaining eight yards, and GBE's Gary Ashley recovered on the Appleton 14. Six plays and three penalties later, Brawnner scored.

A wave of AHS defenders blocked Bill Batten's kick to keep the spread at seven, 13-6, with 4½ minutes left.

Kloes, a 215-pound fullback who runs with surprising speed, made possible AHS insurance TD by storming 47 yards to the East 7. Vivoda powered to the 1, and Kloes drove it over.

Oshkosh Beats Southwest

Schroeder Carries for 182 Yards, Tallies All Four of Indians' TDs

OSHKOSH — It looked like old times Friday night as Oshkosh High School, using ground power plays, rolled to a 27-7 win over Green Bay Southwest at the Jackson Street Athletic Field.

Fullback Jim Schroeder, a transfer from Southwest, and halfback Dave Steinert gave the Trojans fits by running for 291 of the Indians' 333 yards rushing. The burly Schroeder was the scoring gun, blasting his way for all of Oshkosh's four touchdowns on spurts of one, three, six and one yard, the last six-pointer coming with just two seconds left in the game.

Schroeder toted the pigskin 37 times for 182 yards and a 4.9 average, while Steinert had a 5.2 average on 21 trips for 109 yards.

The Indians took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and Southwest tied the score by the intermission on a 19-yard jaunt up the middle by fullback Rod Anderson. Schroeder then tallied once in the third period and twice in the fourth for Oshkosh. Steve Koch kicked three of four extra points for the Indians.

Oshkosh, working behind junior quarterback Ray Elbing, ran off 75 plays to the visitors' 38 and gained 354 yards to Southwest's 170.

Oshkosh is now 1-1 in Fox River Valley Conference play.

Second-Year Man to Start

Parrish's Departure Puts Heat on Howell

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I suppose I'll make some mistakes, but I'm confident I can do the job," says Mike Howell, a lanky former quarterback who now plays free safety for the Cleveland Browns.

When Bernie Parrish left the Browns, it put the heat on the whole defensive backfield, and the hottest seat probably is held by Howell, a second-year man who played football at Grambling College.

"I suppose it's true that I'm on the spot in a way, but I can't let myself feel that way about it," he said.

He gets a crack at the Green Bay Packers here Sunday.

Howell stands 6-1, weighs 193 pounds and can run 40 yards in 4.5 seconds. His speed helps in his newly acquired free safety position since, as he says, "my job usually is to help somebody out."

Started in Opener

Howell started the Browns' league opener against the Washington Redskins. Parrish, seven-year veteran of the Browns' defensive backfield, announced shortly afterwards that he was leaving the team. He said he did not want to sit on the bench.

"He's helped me out since I joined the Browns," Howell said of Parrish. Howell said he was surprised that Parrish was leaving. The Browns had planned to alternate Parrish and Howell, and they would have been available for support in the cornerback positions.

"I hated to have this happen," Howell said.

Bobby Franklin, sent to Atlanta when the Falcons started an NFL team, may come back to the Browns. Franklin left the Falcons earlier in the season.

But no matter who comes to the Browns to aid the defense, with his youth, speed and temperament, Howell appears to be the Browns' free safety of the future.

Omro Downs Brillion, 13-0

Lee Scores All Points in Little 9 Football Contest

BRILLION — Brillion matched Omro yard-for-yard in total yardage but could not come up with the right ingredients to match Gene Lee and as a result bowed to the Foxes, 13-0, in Little Nine Conference football action Friday night.

Lee carried 17 times for 71 yards and caught one pass for 14 yards to account for all 13 of the Foxes' points. Brillion edged Omro in total yards, 205-204.

After a scoreless first half, Omro took the second half kickoff and marched 70 yards to paydirt. Lee capped the 15-play non-aerial drive with a 4-yard run-off tackle for a touchdown.

Omro stopped Brillion on downs following the ensuing kickoff and thirteen plays later Lee hauled in a 14-yard pass from Tim Kautza for his second TD. The PAT run by Lee was good.

The Lions were within striking distance twice in the first half, once when they moved to the five only to be halted by a 15-yard penalty and again when they drove to the 20 and where they were stopped on downs.

Sturgeon Bay Stops Bonduel In NEW, 32-6

STURGEON BAY — Two touchdowns by John Asher, Sturgeon Bay fullback, sparked the Clippers to a 32-6 victory over Bonduel in a Northeastern Wisconsin Conference encounter here Friday.

Bonduel's only score came on an 8-yard pass from Jack Pitt to Wayne Beiffuss after a blocked punt on the Sturgeon Bay 16 in the fourth period.

Bonduel threatened earlier when Glen Berkahn connected on a 22-yard pass to Gary Uelman to the Clippers' 1-yard line, but time ran out in the first half. Berkahn hit John Tong on a 48-yard pass play in the third period, but an offside penalty nullified the touchdown run shortly after.

The Clippers' other scores came on John Parr's 13-yard run, Mike Horne's 44-yard interception return and Horne's 56-yard run from scrimmage. Asher tallied early in the game on 1-yard plunges and gave the Clippers the lead for good.

Goalby Records Second 67 for Portland Lead

Brown Trails by 1; Casper Slips to 71 For 138 Aggregate

BY LARRY KURTZ

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Bob Goalby held the lead with 134 Pete Brown was one stroke back and Dave Hill was doing the talking after two rounds of the $50,000 Portland Open golf tournament.

"Everybody shoots the grass off this course," said Hill, who had just done it. His second straight 68 on the par-72, 6,436-yard Columbia-Edgewater course left him two strokes off the lead.

But Hill was not satisfied as the third round got under way today.

"I was in good position all day," he said. "I had a 32 on the front side par 36 and could have had 30 easy. I should be a couple shots in front."

He would have been, except for Goalby. Brown, one bad hole and a few putts that barely missed. Hill took a six on a 373-yard hole when his drive hit a tree and his chip back to the fairway went into the rough.

Goalby, meanwhile, ripped off his second straight 67 to keep the lead he shared Thursday with three others. He dropped seven birdie putts, most of them from less than three feet.

Brown, a long hitter who in 1964 became the first Negro to win an official PGA tournament, is fast becoming a crowd favorite.

Bert Yancey, with some fine iron play, and Gay Brewer, with eight birdie shots, were tied with Hill two strokes off the lead.

Yancey shot his second 68 and Brewer came in with a 67, although going over par on three holes.

Billy Casper, the leading money winner on the pro tour, had a bad time on the greens and finished with a 71 Friday, leaving him four shots behind.

The other co-leader in the first round, Bill Martindale, was in trouble repeatedly and fell to a 75.

Defending champion Jack Nicklaus, matching par again, was 10 strokes behind Goalby and seemed out of contention. He escaped the 36-hole cut by only two strokes.

Wisconsin Rapids And Beloit Both Score Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Appleton Terrors terrified themselves with moments of terrible ball handling, but were plenty of trouble for Green Bay East anyway as big powers clashed on the Wisconsin high school football scene Friday.

While Appleton was topping East 19-6, South Milwaukee waltzed Waukesha into a 26-14 corner, highly rated Wisconsin Rapids used interceptions to quell Antigo 26-21, and Green Bay Southwest fell 27-7 to Oshkosh, the state's top 1965 power.

Oshkosh, recovering from the week - old loss to Appleton, spanked Green Bay Southwest with the help of halfback Jim Schroeder who ran four touchdowns, all from within the seven-yard line.

Intercepts 4 Passes

Wisconsin Rapids, the Wisconsin Valley Conference defending titlist and now 2-0, intercepted Antigo passes four times. Linebacker Phil Knipple stole two of them.

Don Reeves piloted another back 15 yards for a touchdown, and ran 25 yards for another score during Rapids conference opener.

Antigo, now 1-1-1, was not as sloppy as the interceptions indicate, however. The losers had the Red Raiders down 14-12 at halftime.

South Milwaukee's Ken Rome pranced 81 yards with a Waukesha punt in the first period, and remained in step with an 85 - yard travel in the second stanza as the victors deprived Waukesha of a touchdown until the fourth quarter.

Quarterback Geof Poole threw four touchdown passes, and ran 81 yards for another touchdown just for good measure as Madison Edgewood downed West Bend 60-13. Edgewood led 40-0 at the halfway point.

Beloit's Purple Knights, rated high in the Big Eight Conference title studies, outgained Madison Central by only 15 yards, but made the inches count.

They pushed over to pay dirt on one-and-two-yard moves for the strikes that left Central bankrupt 14-0.

Madison East beat Kenosha Bradford 15-0 in like fashion, touchdown moves of two and four yards.

Marshfield Columbus gave Stevens Point Pacelli its 13th consecutive loss, 32-13. Pacelli has net won in two years, and it was the first time it scored against Columbus in three games.

In Final 7 Seconds

A four-yard pass from Larry Bornemann to Pat Civik in the final seven seconds was good for a game-tying touchdown, and Bornemann followed up with the kick that gave Fond du Lac a 7-6 victory over Manitowish.

Bornemann, hitting 16 of his 26 passes for 121 yards through the air, was responsible a week ago for the pass in the final two seconds that allowed Fond du Lac a tie with Green Bay East.

The Associated Press player of the week, Packey Pacquette, paced Superior Senior to a 27-0 defeat of Bloomington Lincoln.

He passed for a touchdown to Tim Heikkila, a senior end, caught a pass from Paul Ham-

Shawano Defeats Kimberly, 12 to 7

Second Gipp-to-Penass TD Pass Climaxes Comeback

SHAWANO — Two touchdown passes from Bill Gipp to Leon Penass proved the undoing of the Kimberly Papermakers Friday night, as Shawano opened its Mid-Eastern Conference campaign with a come-from-behind, 12-7, victory.

The Indians looked like they'd run roughshod over the visitors on the first series of downs, moving 41 yards in eight plays for a tally.

Quarterback Gipp found Penass in the end zone with a 12-yard thrust to culminate the drive.

Kimberly end, Dick Hamann, broke through to foil the point-after effort to limit the Shawano advantage to 6-0.

It was the Papermakers' turn on the ensuing kickoff as they duplicated the quick-scoring route, driving 59 yards in 16 plays for the equalizer.

Tom Weyenberg and Joe Malsavage ate up most of the yardage, via the ground, with the latter setting up the score on a 10-yard burst to the Shawano 14.

John Vander Velden finally crashed into paydirt on a 1-yard sneak. Weyenberg added the PAT kick giving the Papermakers a 7-6 edge at halftime.

Early in the third period, Kimberly marched to a first down on the hosts' 10, only to have three plays and a fumbled pass from center give the ball over to Shawano on its own 32.

Later, the Indians ignited a 59-yard, 11-play drive for the deciding tally.

A 15-yard aerial from Gipp to Penass with 11 minutes left in the game got the scoring job done for Shawano.

The visitors got to the enemy 18 later in the period, before Shawano took over on downs and controlled the ball for the final six minutes of the contest, ending up on the Papermakers' 12.

Koufax 5-Hitter Checks Pirates; Johnson Stars

Dodgers Hike Lead To 3½ Games; Mets Decision Giants, 5-4

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What pennant race:
There was, or at least there seemed to be, one in the National League only a few days ago, but now you can't be sure.

The first-place Los Angeles Dodgers, using the same tactic they used in capturing the pennant last year, increased their lead to 3½ games over Pittsburgh and four over San Francisco Friday night by defeating the Pirates 5-1 while the Giants lost to New York 5-4.

The tactic the Dodgers used last year was simple — win, win and win some more. Now they're doing it again.

Just one week ago the Dodgers were tied for second with San Francisco, each 1½ games behind the Pirates.

Won All Seven
Since then Los Angeles has won all seven of its games — the winning streak is eight overall — while Pittsburgh has dropped four of five and the Giants four of seven.

That combination has been enough to open for the Dodgers' the biggest lead since the Giants led the Pirates by four games on June 28.

In winning the 1965 pennant, the Dodgers, who were 4½ games out at this time, won 13 straight games and 15 of their last 16, while the Giants managed only a 9-8 record in that time.

Perhaps, it's such a situation that prompted Friday night's losing pitcher, Bob Veale, to say:

"Not Out of It"
"We're not out of it yet. They have 11 games to play on the road. Who knows, maybe they might lose eight or nine of them."

Koufax Johnson

And maybe they won't, at least not while they have Sandy Koufax pitching. The brilliant left-hander stopped the Pirates on five hits and posted his 24th

New London Defense Stifles Jays, 21-6

BY ROGER PITT

NEW LONDON — A strong defense led the New London Bulldogs to a 21-6 win over the Menasha Bluejays Friday in the Mid Eastern Conference lid lifter for both teams.

Tom Weede's Menashans rolled up a 114-108 edge in total yardage, but 94 yards of turf were covered during the final period after New London opened up a 21-0 lead.

Jeff Forman, a 5-6, 160-pound sophomore, rolled up the most real estate for the Bluejays and for the game with 59 in 11 carries, all in the final period. He accounted for the lone Jay touchdown with a one yard carry midway in the final period.

Menasha played three quarters of the game deep in their own end of the field, before the New London offense fumbled twice in the last quarter reversing the trend.

Shook Ball Loose
Gary Klapper fumbled on the first play of the second period as Dan Cartwright, Dan Madden and Bill Rieckman broke through and shook the ball loose for Bob Cartwright, who recovered on the Menasha 18.

Rusty Yeager tallied the first New London touchdown two plays later carrying on a sweep around right end for 18 yards. Tackle Chuck Learman threw

Neenah Crushes Truckers

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

CLINTONVILLE — Striking with demoralizing rapidity, Neenah High School made a route of what was expected to be a close game, battering Clintonville, 48-0, in the Mid-Eastern Conference opener Friday night.

The defending champion Rockets, decisively launching a bid for their fifth straight crown in their first league game under Coach Ben Meixl, scored on the first play from scrimmage, built up a 26-0 lead at the close of the first period and coasted the rest of the way.

In senior halfback Chuck Wismer, they came up with a bonafide "back of the week" candidate. All Wismer did was to score four touchdowns, the shortest on a 32-yard pass interception.

The others came on pass receptions good for 64 and 78 yards and on an 82-yard punt return. He also set up a score with a good punt return and kept another drive going by gaining 15 yards on a run from punt formation.

In all, the Red and White racked up seven touchdowns, three extra points and a field goal by Dan Jankowski. Although it was "no contest" after the first quarter, the game gave both coaches a chance to look at their second and third stringers under fire since they saw most of the second half action.

Aerial Attack
Clintonville didn't threaten seriously until the last period when it launched a desperation passing attack, which carried to the five and 22 yard lines on separate marches.

Neenah's offensive efforts produced a whopping 340 yards, not counting interceptions, punt, and kickoff returns, including 174 by rushing and 166 through the air on four completions in nine tries.

Clintonville made 54 yards on the ground and picked up 107 overhead, throwing 25 times and finding success on 10.

Neenah returned the opening kickoff to its 36 and on the very first play quarterback Gary Losse hit Wismer on a well-executed screen pass, the latter going down the sidelines for the 64 yards. Jankowski's conversion made it 7-0 with only 39 seconds gone.

Neenah's Duane Dunsirn recovered a fumble on the Truckers 38 on the latter's third scrimmage play and two plays later, halfback Tom Bachhuber went through a big hole between right tackle and end for 26 yards and the second score. Jankowski's kick failed and the board read 13-0 with only 3:35 gone.

Only 1:11 elapsed between the second third scores as Jeron Dieck's pass was intercepted by Wismer on the 32 and returned for a touchdown. Jankowski converted.

Grind Out Score
The victors ground out the next touchdown, advanced 52 yards in 12 plays with reserve halfback Ned Kramer going over from a foot out with three seconds left in the initial period. The kick failed.

Wismer set up the fifth score by returning a punt from the 50 to Clintonville's 21 in the second frame. Four ground plays carried the one from where second string quarterback Dan Blank swept left end to tally. John O'Brien's kick failed and the winners maintained that 32-0 lead at halftime.

Clintonville advanced from its 32 to Neenah's 42 with the second half kickoff but stalled, punted and Wismer grabbed the ball on his 18, picking his way and breaking tackles en route to the 82-yard scamper. The kick again failed.

Jankowski recovered a fumble on Clintonville's 37 later in the third period and he culminated

Browns' Morin Poses Problem for Packers' Defensive Backfield

Post-Crescent News Service

CLEVELAND — The Browns' Milt Morin is something of a rarity.
The 250-pound tight end, who stands 6-4, made the championship Browns as a rookie and, what's more, he'll be in the starting lineup against the Packers Sunday.

Morin, the Browns' first draft choice last winter who played at the University of Massachusetts, made his pro debut against the Redskins last Sunday by catching three passes — for 51 yards, which is good mileage for a tight end.

Few players make it right from the start — on a championship team. The Packers had just one since 1960 — Lionel Aldridge, who opened the season as a successor to Bill Quinlan at right defensive end in 1963 ... and he's still there, getting better with each season.

We haven't heard anybody compare Morin to Mike Ditka or Ron Kramer but that may come — if he has a good day against the Packers.

With only one game on the books for each team, statistics fail to reveal a clue to the battle in Municipal Stadium.

It is interesting to note, however, that the Browns averaged 5.2 yards per offensive play in whipping the Redskins while the Packers averaged 5.3 in stopping the Colts. Defensively, the Browns permitted an average of 5.0 per play while the Packers had 4.1.

The Browns ran off 59 plays while the Packers had 55. The Redskins had the ball for 63 plays, the Colts 54. The Browns edged the Pack, 18-17, in first downs while the Bays had a good edge, 17-11 in first downs allowed by the opposition.

The Packers closed out the heavy work for Cleveland with a lengthy passing drill in Green Bay Friday morning, and just for a switch, Coach Vince Lombardi stood on top of the tower in the center of the Oneida St., drill field for a better view of the aerial game.

The Bays worked in Municipal Stadium upon arrival here at 11:30 this morning.

Royals Reach Agreement With 'Big O'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Oscar Robertson and the Cincinnati Royals have reached agreement on his 1966-67 contract, estimated to be $100,000. The agreement was announced Friday night by Pepper Wilson, general manager of the National Basketball Association club, and Robertson immediately joined the Royals' training camp at Oxford.

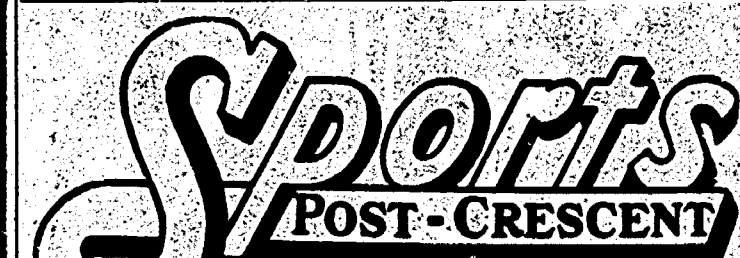

The Big O took part in a scrimmage and hardly looked like he missed a workout. He scored on six of nine shots. Robertson had held out for 2½ days.

The All-Star guard becomes the third NBA player believed to have $100,000 contracts, joining Bill Russell, Boston's player-coach, and Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia.

Rams Rally to Beat

Chicago for Second NFL Triumph, 31-17

Los Angeles Defense Cited By Allen as Key to Victory

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "They've got a nice ball club," said George Halas, the 71-year-old patriarch of the Chicago Bears.

"Any win in the National Football League is satisfying, but to beat George Halas and the Bears is extra special," said the Los Angeles Rams' rookie coach, George Allen.

That was the best, or worst, Allen and his former boss had to say after the Rams, beat the Bears 31-17 Friday night before a crowd of 58,916 in Memorial Coliseum.

Allen agreed to pose shaking hands before the game with Halas, but Halas politely declined. The usual game ending handshake was apparently mutually ignored.

At Green Bay Next
The Rams go into Green Bay next Sunday with a 2-0 record. The Bears draw a bye and are 0-2.

Chicago had its chances Friday night and Halas could not be too pleased with the way the Bears let them slip away.

Leading 24-17, the Rams twice fumbled away the ball in the final four minutes. The Bears took over each time on the Los Angeles 19.

The Bears got nowhere, on two runs by Gale Sayers and six incomplete passes by Rudy Bukich.

In the final two minutes, Bukich's pass attempt from his 42 yard line after a Ram punt was gathered in behind the line of scrimmage on a leap by 6-7, 250-pound defensive end Lamar Lundy, who lumbered 33 yards for the touchdown which put the game out of reach.

Cut It in 11 Pieces
"We gave the game ball to the defensive team," said Allen. "I guess we'll have to cut it up in 11 pieces."

The defense took the play from a series of spectacular offensive plays.

An 84-yard pass play, Roman Gabriel to Jack Snow, put the Rams on the scoreboard in the first period.

Sayers' twisting 58-yard run from scrimmage gave the Bears a 17-14 halftime lead.

There was a 94-yard kickoff return by the Bears' Dick Gordon, but he fumbled into the end zone when overhauled on the Rams' three and kicker

Redskins Deal Carpenter to Minnesota

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preston Carpenter, 32-year-old tight end, was traded Friday by the Washington Redskins to the Minnesota Vikings for a middle draft choice.

The trade developed after Washington asked waivers on Carpenter earlier in the day and then recalled them.

Carpenter had been starting tight end for the Redskins since he was acquired from the Pittsburgh Steelers before the start of the 1964 season.

The Redskins plan to replace him at the position with either Pat Richter of Jake Kupp. Carpenter replaced Richter at tight end when he joined the Redskins. Kupp was acquired recently from Dallas as a guard and since has been converted to the new position.

Stretch Win Streak to 8 Games

BY JOHN L. FAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

GREEN BAY — Appleton High School's rampaging football Terrors successfully concluded the "Operation Deflation" part of their Fox River Valley conference schedule here Friday night.

The Terrors flattened defending co-champion Green Bay East, 19-6, to lengthen their 2-season winning streak to eight games. In halting East's 2-year defeatless string at 10: (eight wins and two ties), AHS added the state's No. 3 team (of 1965) to its impressive list of conquests.

Just six days earlier, the Terrors had unfrocked defending co-champion Oshkosh, last year's top-ranked team in Wisconsin.

Simon Kloses
Gary Vivoda, Bob Simon and Jim Kloses scored touchdowns last night as the Ade Dillon-coached Terrors avenged last season's 14-13 loss to East. Kloses kicked a point after touchdown.

Big Yardage Edge
AHS recorded a yardage edge of 282 to 76 and could have turned the game into a rout except for its penchant for fumbling.

The Terrors fumbled the ball away twice on the GBE 9-yard line, and the Red Devils' only score was set up by a fumble recovery on the Appleton 14. At that, it took East six plays and a 2 to 1 edge in 5-yard penalties to push the ball over. Bob Brawner scored from the 2.

For most of the evening, AHS' charging forward wall moved irresistibly against East's moving-sized defense line, and the powerful and elusive Terror backs chalked up big gains. On the three scoring drives, Appleton averaged a cool 10 yards per play.

Meanwhile, the AHS defensive unit, which features several 2-way performers, took the zing out of East's "Twing" formation. The AHS line — featuring Tom Reitzner, Craig Rusch, Randy Shepard, Bruce Kain, Keith Mossholder and Jim Michalkiewicz — was brilliantly unyielding against East's ground-accented attack. Tailback Brawner was held to 39 yards in 25 carries.

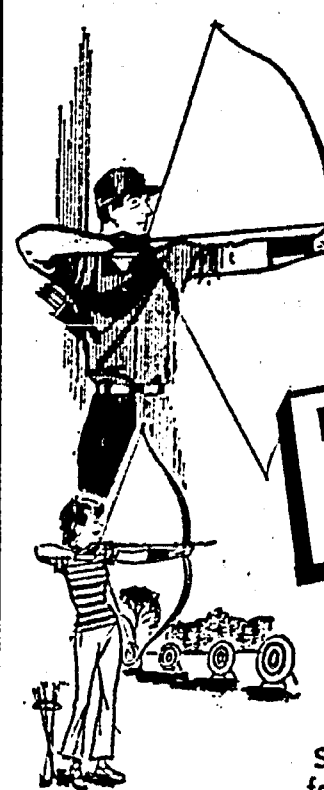

The AHS secondary — Wayne Lutz, Simon, Bill Stroess, Pete Olson and Pat Garvey — didn't allow a pass completion. For the second straight week, the enemy offense failed to net 100 yards.

In the first quarter, AHS drove from its own 40 to the East 9 where GBE's Don Kush recovered a Vivoda fumble. The advance featured a 22-yard run by Simon, who had his second 77-yard game in a row. Last night, the newly-discovered defensive ace averaged about 8.5 yards a try.

In the second period, Appleton

Weyauwega Tips Waupaca, 20 to 0

Wittenberg Opens CWC Grid Season by Edging Manawa

A 13-point performance by quarterback Tim Nolan enabled Weyauwega to open defense of its Central Wisconsin Conference co-championship with a 20-0 conquest of Waupaca Friday night.

In the evening's only other loop action, Wittenberg nosed out Manawa, 21-19.

After a scoreless first period, Nolan got the Indians in the scoring column with a 20-yard scoring aerial to halfback Tim Bratz. The signal-caller's sneak ran the halftime count to 7-0.

Starting from the Comets' 46 in the third stanza, the Indians needed only seven plays to find paydirt again.

Nolan carried four times for 33 yards in the drive, including the final two for the tally on a sneak. Jack Montgomery's PAT run extended the margin to 14-0.

A fumbled punt attempt, recovered on Waupaca's 22, set up the final 6-point drive in the closing period. Nolan's 2-yard plunge closed out his 13-point effort for the evening.

The Comets never got within Weyauwega's 20-yard line as the Indian front wall, led by hard-charging Dave Tews, prevented any serious scoring threat.

Danforth Hurt As Seymour Triumphs, 33-7

Skenandore Tallies 3 Touchdowns in NEW Contest

PULASKI — Led by Tony Skenandore's 3-touchdown performance, Seymour tallied in every quarter en route to a 33-7 triumph over Pulaski in a Northeastern Wisconsin Conference game Friday night.

The victory was the Indians' second straight in NEW play and third overall while Pulaski was stung with its second loss in loop action and third on the season.

In the first quarter, Skenandore took an 8-yard pass from Ron Mueller for the Indians' first tally. He added a 15-yard aerial in the second quarter and a 5-yard run in the third stanza to give Seymour a 20-0 advantage.

Mueller hit Jerry Kranzush for a "6-pointer" and Dave Heagle smashed over from the 1-yard line to round out the Indians scoring in the final period. Mueller kicked two of the extra points and Steve Danforth booted the other.

Pulaski averted being shutout as Dennis Blume completed a 30-yard strike to Gary Gajewski in the waning moments of the game.

Despite the victory, Seymour was dealt a jarring blow as all-around star Jim Danforth broke his collarbone after collecting an interception early in the game.

Two of the burglaries were in Calumet County, two were in Waupaca County and the others occurred in Outagamie County over the past several months.

The Calumet County burglaries occurred at the Darboy Club, where money, liquor and cigars were taken May 17, and at High Cliff State Park where about $15 was taken from an office.

Waupaca County burglaries occurred at the Sinclair Service Station in Fremont where a flashlight, cigars, change and oil were taken, and at the Thomas Spengler garage, Readfield, where auto parts valued at about $125 were taken May 25.

Some of the youths also admitted their parts in burglaries earlier this week at American Tool Foundry Co., Stevensville, where $85 was taken; Northgate Skelley Service, where a vending machine was entered, and the Dale Gas and Oil Co., Dale, where $6 worth of gasoline, and change from a vending machine were stolen.

Also solved with the apprehension of some of the youths were five burglaries over several months at Hassel's Sinclair Service, 3225 W. College Ave. The latest burglary there was on Sept. 6.

Auto Accessories

Some of the youths admitted their parts in a burglary Aug. 15 at Valley Auto Parts where auto accessories valued at $170 were stolen.

A flashlight was taken from the Appleton Neon Sign Co. 1913 E. Northland Ave.

Some of the stolen merchandise has been recovered, investigators said.

Court Asks Funds To Protect Clients From 'Malpractice'

State Bar Opposes Move to Provide Money for Reimbursement

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The creation of a fund to reimburse clients for money stolen by attorneys or lost through other criminal malpractice procedures has been proposed to the judicial council by the State Supreme Court.

The court Friday asked the council to prepare proposed rules for the establishment and administration of the fund, which has been strongly opposed in the past by the State Bar of Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court can if it desires, create the fund financed through an assessment of all lawyers in the state without the approval of the state bar.

Upper Limit
The upper limit of the amount reimbursed would be set by the level of funds currently in the account, according to Justice Harold Hallows who proposed the program.

Such funds have been established in about 25 states, he said, and total approximately $125,000 each. In other states, lawyers' assessments have ranged between $5 and $20.

Hallows acknowledged that the state bar and its governing board have refused to consider the establishment of such a program after studying the question three times in the past, but he added that he believes that the attitude of the board has changed on the matter.

Tells Preference
The court directed the council not to study the merits of the proposal, but to prepare suggested rules and procedures for the establishment of such a fund. Hallows pointed out that the court could establish it after public hearing and court ruling on the question.

But he indicated a preference for state bar cooperation in the establishment of the program.

The council, after a lengthy discussion, voted to consider the proposal at its next meeting in October and in the interim to contact the state bar and request that proponents of the program be nominated to work with a study committee in drafting the rules.

Attorney Gerald T. Hayes of Milwaukee, a state bar representative on the council, argued that a question so thoroughly studied by bar committees in the past must either be substantially altered or accepted as unsound.

Hallows replied that the state bar never studied the merits of individual programs, but had simply rejected the entire concept of such an insurance fund. The major argument against the program is that the many reputable attorneys in the state should not be taxed to make up for the actions of the few unethical members of the legal profession.

The council first voted to table the request until it could be determined if the state bar is now willing to establish the fund itself.

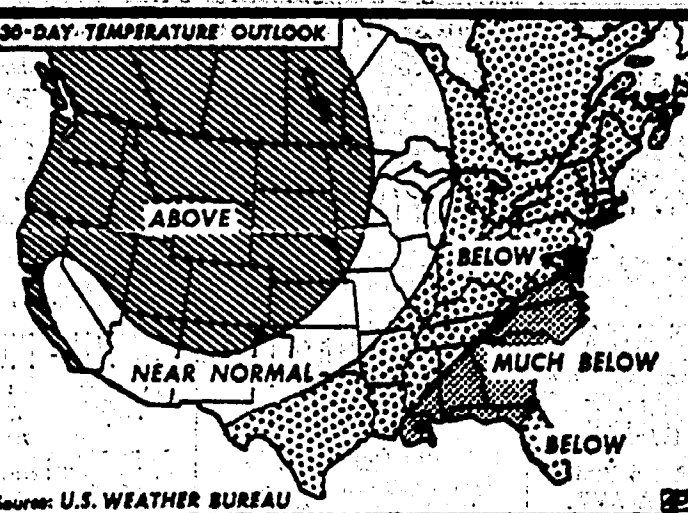

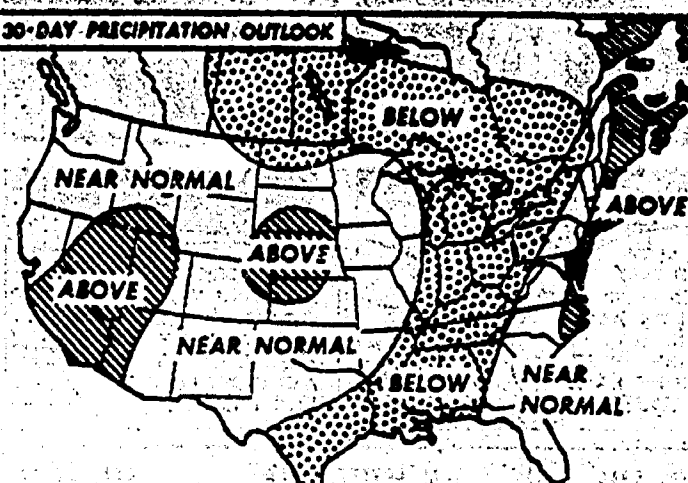

Hallows said after the vote, "When we send something down here to be drafted, it's going to be drafted."

The council reversed itself after Hallows said that state bar representatives could be added to the committee after the study has been started, for the program cannot immediately be created.

Court Reminder
When the Supreme Court requests council action, it cannot turn the task over to someone else, Hallows reminded the group.

The council also sent to the court for a public hearing and court ruling on the major sections of a bill from the last session of the Legislature which would require all courts of record in the state to have a court reporter present to record all testimony in contested cases. At present, some Milwaukee courts do not follow the practice at all in some contested cases, and there is wide variation of practice throughout the state, the council has determined.

The council submitted a bill in the 1965 session which would require such practices, but a Senate amendment would have exempted Milwaukee County from those provisions. The Assembly refused to pass the bill in that form.

Sent to the Supreme Court in an effort to sidestep another legislative fight over the matter were all those sections which create those provisions. Sections dealing with salary schedule changes, however, must be acted upon by the Legislature.

Opposes Reduction
State Public Defender Robert Freibert told the council in a letter that he opposes a Supreme Court suggested reduction in the time limit of appeals in criminal cases. Last spring the court suggested that the council study reducing the time limit from one year to six months.

From a study of 21 recent cases of his office, Freibert said, four of the appellants could not have made their appeals under that limit, and seven others might have had their appeals endangered due to delays in the legal process.

"These statistics readily support the conclusion that an abrupt reduction of time for appeal would have the immediate effect of denying 19 per cent of the inmates the right to appeal due to delays in receiving the transcript," Freibert said.

Officers re-elected for the year are Judge Warren A. Grady, Port Washington, chairman, and James Burke, state revisor of statutes, vice chairman.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Folks:
I'd like to pass along some hints on sewing plastic, which we just learned from a manufacturer.

Do not pin plastic as the material will get pin-holes which cannot be removed. Mark it with chalk or crayon.

Use a fine needle when sewing it.

Last, but far from least — and we've said it before — never put plastic directly on wood. Eventually, it will ruin the finish of your furniture.

So be sure to remember these little tips when you're using those wonderful plastics.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I also take a nap when I put my boys down for theirs.

I use a wide headband as a blindfold. Any dark color will do.

It makes it so nice and dark you will think it is night.

It's easy to get to sleep that way if you have trouble sleeping during the day.

Mary Curtiss

Dear Heloise:
If you have an urge to slipcover a chair with something impractical, go ahead and do it!

Just remember to place the chair where the family is unable to watch television while sitting in it.

It will stay nice almost indefinitely!

Mrs. F. Clark

Dear Heloise:
I am forever copying recipes, and I save time by numbering the ingredients.

When writing the directions, I simply refer to the ingredients by number instead of writing out all the words again.

Kathi Kan

Dear Heloise:
I use a spray bottle of water in the nursery to dampen a washcloth instead of running for a wet one at diaper changes.

I also save empty powder boxes for the nursery. I think it is much easier to puff powder on the baby instead of sprinkling it on.

The puff stops powder build-up in the creases of skin because you can apply it more evenly.

Naturally, I fill the box with baby powder.

Barbara Yaeger

Dear Heloise:
When painting, I use an old soup ladle to dip my paint out of the gallon can into the paint tray or smaller can.

No more paint around the edge or down the sides of the can, and the lid is easier to close.

The excess paint can be removed from the ladle with the brush you are using.

Also, I tape a brush to a yardstick to reach the edge around the ceiling.

Gwen

Dear Heloise:
My dresser was always messy with powder and make-up until I put a guest towel in the top drawer.

The towel is spread over the dresser while I'm using powder and is easily folded and put back in the drawer.

Result — a clean dresser.

Frances Page

Dear Heloise:
Grandparents, save those little comments your sons and daughters make about their children when they write to you.

Make a scrapbook of them with the date of each comment. With three small children I find myself reporting their progress in letters to my parents, but neglecting to put it all down in their baby books.

It won't be too long before I would dearly love a present like that.
